The data compilations presented in Figure 2-3 and Figure 2-4 also include mine water qualities not resulting from sulphide oxidation. However, the fields for ARD, NMD, and SD are drawn so that this nomenclature covers the entire range of water qualities observed, including water types that may deviate from the proper definitions.

Enzymes / ' ε n z aɪ m z / are macromolecular biological catalysts. Enzymes accelerate chemical reactions. The molecules upon which enzymes may act are called substrates and the enzyme converts the substrates into different molecules known as products. Almost all metabolic processes in the cell need enzyme catalysis in order to occur at rates fast enough to sustain life.

Enzyme - Wikipedia

A chemical reaction is a process that leads to the chemical transformation of one set of chemical substances to another. Classically, chemical reactions encompass changes that only involve the positions of electrons in the forming and breaking of chemical bonds between atoms, with no change to the nuclei (no change to the elements present), and can often be described by a chemical equation.
